Forum's Year Begins; Dean Of Men Speaks, Assures Group 'Full Support'

By BILL EAGAN
Forum Reporter

The year has started for the St. Michael's College Student Forum. President Michael P. Smith opened the first meeting this week, with a plea for action for the common good.

Immediately after the opening of the meeting, the Forum was addressed by the Dean of Men, Rev. Francis X. Gokey. His address carried a note of optimism and assured the members "of the interest and full support of the administration in all . . . sensible endeavors."

He stressed the new responsibilities that have been given to the Forum this year and stated that the body must assume a position of honor and accept the challenge of its position.

Fr. Gokey stated that the Forum must come to the forefront in upholding the school's good name, but added that in order "to gain the respect of others we must have the respect of ourselves." He went on to speak of the new rules that have been introduced this year, saying: "We have crossed the boundary of strict supervision and are now walking the path of student self-responsibility."

The final note of this address was Fr. Gokey's, "Let us never retrace our steps."

MILITARY WEEKEND CANCELLED

Following the Dean of Men's speech, Lt. Col. William C. Flannigan, Professor of Air Science, took the floor to explain the reasons for the cancellation of this year's Military Weekend.

Col. Flannigan said that the main reason was that the Department could not assume the financial responsibilities. He stressed that ROTC on the St. Michael's campus is the same as any other department, and one would not expect the Chemistry or Government Departments to be a party to an enterprise of this sort.

Col. Flannigan stressed that he is not against a weekend of this kind, but that he could not have, "one of his officers sign a contract that would bind the Department financially." He closed by saying that he would lend his support to this undertaking, if it did not require financial involvement.

Former Govt. Dept. Head To Assist SMC President

Staff Reporter

Dr. Robert C. Spencer, former chairman of the Government Department here and receiver of the 1962-63 Democratic National Committee Faculty Fellowship, has returned to St. Michael's as Assistant to the President of the college, the Very Reverend Gerald E. Dupont, S.S.E.

The fellowship which Dr. Spencer received is sponsored by the National Center for Education in Politics at New York University, and, each year, places one college professor for each political party on the staff of the national committee of his party. Dr. Spencer's Republican counterpart was Robert J. Huckshorn of the University of Idaho. The two are currently collaborating on a book entitled The Politics of Fear which will be published in the Spring. The idea for the book was conceived in Washington while Dr. Spencer was Research Director of the Democratic National Committee, under Chairman John M. Bailey.

Dr. Spencer, who received his A.B., M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from the University of Chicago, joined St. Michael's in 1949, later becoming Professor of Government and Chairman of the Department.

FORMER STATE SENATOR

In 1958, Dr. Spencer was elected to the Vermont State Senate and was re-elected in 1960. In 1958 and 1959, he served as chairman of the task force in personnel of Vermont's "Little Hoover" Commission. He had also served as town Democratic chairman and state chairman for Volunteers for Stevenson and Kefauver.

Dr. Spencer's duties as Assistant to the President began September 1. In regard to these duties, Fr. Dupont said:

"It is almost impossible for the President of any college or university to find enough time to devote to the examination and development of his institution in the light of changing economic and social conditions. And yet, if the institution is to progress or even keep abreast of the times, this constant study must be maintained."

"The relationships of government, industry, and philanthropic organizations to the colleges and universities," Fr. Dupont continued, "have increased at a tremendous rate in the last few years. It will be Dr. Spencer's chief task to supplement the work of the President in these important areas."

Besides Dr. Spencer, there are many other new faces on St. Michael's campus:

A THEME OF PROGRESS

Running through the customary first-of-the-year news which fills the columns of this newspaper this week, there is an apparent theme - that of progress.

From the front-page story concerning the outlook for the Student Forum this year to the Sports-page articles dealing with the St. Michael's soccer team prospects, one cannot help but get the impression that things are "looking up" at St. Michael's College. They are.

Of course, the "big news" this year is the revision of the Student Guide, accomplished during the past summer by the Dean of Men's office. Editorial comment on this matter appears elsewhere on this page. Suffice it to say here that the new rules which shall govern student life in the St. Michael's College community constitute what we interpret to be a "giant step" forward in the growth of this college.

The progress we speak of is also evident in many other areas this year.

The traditional Mass of The Holy Spirit was held Sunday, not in an overcrowded Austin Hall, but in a spacious new gymnasium the use of which the college acquired during the past summer.

A new and vital post has been created in the college administration, that of Assistant to the President. And this post has been filled by the appointment of a very able man, Dr. Robert Spencer, who is no stranger to the kind of duties which his new position will demand of him.

Upon the appointment of Dr. Robert Giroux to the post of Director of Graduate Studies and of the Summer School, it was announced that the graduate study program here will become a full-time operation in the near future.

The completion and dedication this summer of Nicolle Hall was yet another symbol of progress, this time for the physical plant of the college. And there is more to come in this department shortly. The Chapel Fund pledge program has garnered three-quarters of the necessary million dollars and indications are that the Class of 1965 may have its baccalaureate ceremonies held therein.

The publication of the Crown and Sword Society sponsored datebook this fall was yet another step forward for St. Michael's. To date, the student body has been rather lethargic in its acceptance of this valuable volume but perhaps this slowness will give way to interest in the booklet once its contents and purpose are better understood.

Other evidences of this progress are to be found in the news this week and will be found in other news in the weeks to come. Things really are "looking up" at St. Michael's College.

ABOUT THOSE FERRY BOATS

As the letter appearing elsewhere on this page indicates, the rather questionable behavior of some Burlington area college students on the ferries which ply the route between here and New York State has finally reached such proportions that an official complaint has had to be lodged with the Deans of all of the schools in the area by the Lake Champlain Transportation Co., operator of the passenger craft. While Mr. Evans does not single out any one college's students as being more obnoxious than any other's, we publish the letter here lest a few members of our student body get any bright ideas.

Obviously, this is yet one more instance of ill-breeding in a few damaging the reputation of the many. We say "ill-breeding" because animal-like behavior, when exhibited by a human being, is certainly no indication that the person exhibiting that behavior has been raised and trained as a man.

We hope that passage on the lake ferries will not have to be denied to all because of the actions of these few - and we ask that some kind-hearted souls read that letter to the unfortunate animals mentioned therein.

New Rules For Old Game

by Ed Zampier

Editor's note: The following guest editorial, written by Ed Zampier of the staff of this newspaper, reflects the editorial views of The MICHAELMAN concerning the recent revision of the rules contained in The Student Guide by the Rev. Francis X. Gokey, Dean of Men.

The game's the same but the rules are a little different this year.

Chief campus rules-maker Father Gokey, Dean of Men, has completely revised the Student Guide and a more liberal philosophy now prevails at St. Michael's.

The new Student Guide symbolizes hope. The administration, especially the Dean of Men, hopes that they've made the right decision on the new rules and regulations. College officials hope they'll work for the betterment of the student body.

We think they will. The college acted wisely, we think, in doing away with late passes, leaving lights on all night, giving more deserved authority to the Student Forum, spelling out clearly the punishment for violations and, in general, recognizing the student as a responsible young man.

> Of course, as Father Gokey pointed out, the new privileges are what we, the students, make of them. We can abide by them and use them judiciously, thus showing the college it was wise in its step forward. Or, we can abuse the rules, thus confirming the views of pessimists in the administration who object to the liberalization, and lose the long-needed changes.

Campus reaction has been highly favorable, except for one not-so-proper Bostonian who deplored the fact that he can no longer check in at 11 and sneak out for the rest of the evening. Another didn't like the fact that "now there are no senior privileges -- everybody has them." We asked Student Forum President Mike Smith for his opinion. Here's what he said:

"Maturity --- intellectual and moral --- is one of the strong goals of every college student.

"The entire revised Student Guide is geared to give the individual student, as well as the student body, through the Student Forum, its representative organ, an opportunity to accept a geared degree of responsibility.

"Such changes as extension of bed check hours and night lights for upperclassmen have given the student privileges which will test his maturity.

> "If a Michaelman is prepared to be a man in his actions, he will continue to enjoy the rights which his new responsibilities have earned for him. I feel that the student body is prepared to demonstrate its willingness to act accordingly.

"As is evidenced by the statements in the Guide concerning student organizations and activities, greater control has been placed in the hands of the students by the expanded jurisdiction of the Student Forum. Sanctions and control of such matters as student solicitation of funds, authority over establishment of all student organizations, as well as jurisdiction over all social affairs proved that within the past several years the Forum has grown into an effectual body in the eyes of the administration."

Well said, Mike. We agree.

Father Ziter, Director of Spiritual Affairs and assuredly one of the liberal forces on campus, echoed Mike's view when he said, "I think it shows the administration believes that the students have grown up. Now, it's all up to the students to use these privileges in a mature manner. If they abuse them, it's all over. . ."

But the Spiritual Director said confidently with a smile, "The majority of the students will not abuse them."

He also said, and we concur, that the "Student Guide is a masterpiece. It's concise, to the point, helpful and fair and square."

Much credit must go to Father Gokey for compiling the new rules book. It is the product of many hours of consultation with Father Dupont, rectors, proctors, student leaders and representatives of other colleges.

He has a whole drawer full of student guides from other schools.

We're not too sure of that but we are certain that the new changes of policy are welcome. And we are also confident that the best will result.

The new rules will make it easier for a Michaelman, as it says in the new guide, "to contribute a great deal to the College by simply accepting the challenge to seek perfection in all phases of life."

Ferry Ban Suggested

Father Gokey
Dean of Men
St. Michael's College
Winooski Park, Vermont

Dear Father Gokey:

As you may be aware this company has had a problem for several years with students who cross on the ferries to New York State on the weekends. This problem seems to be increasing all the time and we would like to request that the college authorities take some action to prevent further undesirable occurrences.

Of course not all students are offenders but there are a good many whose behavior is very bad. This situation occurs on the return trips principally because of the fact that they have been drinking in New York State. They usually travel in groups and take advantage of their numbers by making themselves completely obnoxious to the traveling public and to the employees of this company.

Many of them are ungentlemanly, sometimes obscene, and often destructive. We have never made formal charges against any of these students because we have felt that the resulting publicity would not be in the best interest of the college, the community or this company. These offenders are creating a very bad impression on the traveling public, are a nuisance, and often even frighten some of our customers.

Without going into further detail, I think you will realize that the situation is serious enough so that your institution should take some action to prevent repetition. We would not object if you declare the ferries off bounds for students, although we realize that could work a hardship on some of those students who live in New York State and must travel back and forth between Burlington and their homes.

We would be willing to work out any kind of a plan which would be feasible so that they could ride the boats with permits. This is a rather extreme approach, we admit, but we would like to take any measure to protect the traveling public who are entitled to ride these boats without intrusion on their privacy. These offenders are adults, not young boys, and should be expected to behave like decent adults.

We will appreciate your immediate attention to the above situation.

Very truly yours,
President

Traditional Mass Opens Year: President Speaks

Fr. Gerald E. Dupont, president of St. Michael's, celebrates Mass at the newly acquired gym at the Air Base. He is being assisted by Father Sullivan, deacon, and Father Gokey, sub-deacon. (Duganphoto)

With the celebration of the Mass of the Holy Spirit Sunday in the newly-acquired gymnasium at Fort Ethan Allen, the 1963-64 academic year was formally entered upon at St. Michael's.

An estimated 800 members of the college community attended the 4 p.m. ceremony at which the Very Rev. Gerald E. Dupont, president of the college, celebrated the traditional Mass and delivered a sermon calling upon students to "form (their) convictions and act accordingly" in the face of the "pagan attitude" of the society around them.

Noting that there are bound to be "many conflicts" between the individual's convictions and society, Fr. Dupont asked:

"What is the individual to do? Can he give in because it will be easier to do so?"

"We must reaffirm that God exists, that He is our ruler. We must reemphasize. . .the endowment of freedom in each man and woman and the existence of individual responsibility for all the actions of a man whether he is acting alone or in a crowd," the college president said.

"The skepticism you may feel, the sense of freedom you may want are simply signs that you are growing out of childhood," he continued. "This is as it should be, but be sure you keep your new sense of independence under control or it might ruin your life," he concluded.

Attending the ceremony were upperclassmen, the Seniors in cap and gown, and many members of the faculty and administration. A portable altar and folding chairs were installed in the spacious building to accomodate the throng.

CITES PROTESTANT THEOLOGIAN

"Dr. Paul Tillich, the eminent Protestant theologian has the answer," Fr. Dupont said. "He declared, 'The individual has in himself essentially the responsibility to form his convictions and to act accordingly. If conflict with society cannot be avoided, he has the responsibility to sacrifice himself."

Fr. Dupont cited a "spirit of rebellion" developing throughout the youth of the world.

"It is a spirit of defiance to all authority and of open resistance to all the rules of good conduct which have been honored by generations," he said.

As examples of this, Fr. Dupont listed student riots here and abroad over the past several years.

"It seems that individual responsibility disappears in a crowd," he added.

Fr. Dupont suggested that what is needed is not a set of "new standards" to deal with the problems of society.

"What we need to do is to recreate and revivify such old moral standards as the Ten Commandments.

C and S Dance Sat. To Aid Orphans

The $1.00 you spend on a ticket for the October 5 Crown and Sword Society dance this week may be helping some orphaned student attend St. Michael's or Trinity College, next year.

The dance, to be held in Alliot Hall from 8 p.m. to midnight next Saturday, will be the first of three fund-raising events scheduled for this year to benefit the Society's scholarship drive.

According to Charles Lavezzoli, chairman of the drive, the Society hopes to raise up to $2,000 through ticket sales for the dance, a "hootenanny", and, possibly, a minstrel show, all of which will be produced by the group during the coming year.

The idea of an orphan's scholarship fund originated, he said, as a result of the Society's work with the children at St. Joseph's Child Center in Burlington.

The Crown and Sword has sponsored several Christmas parties and similar affairs at the orphanage over the past several years.

Tentative plans for the scholarship fund call for eventual repayment to the fund, by each scholarship recipient.

He noted that the Society is also selling tickets at several other colleges and that sales indicated a large number of coeds would attend the dance.

Hall Committee Is Reactivated

At this week's Student Forum meeting, the Student Union Committee was reactivated by President Michael P. Smith. The Committee will be under the direction of Kevin St. John and the four class presidents.

Throughout the academic year, students will be urged to make use of the Student Union Building, Alliot Hall. Any group of students may make use of the building by contacting Kevin St. John in Joyce 353.

Arrangements can be made to make use of the booth in the lobby, the meeting rooms, or the lounge.

Dr. R.J. Giroux To Head Grad And Summer School

By JACK M. HOWE
Staff Reporter

On September 1, the appointment of Dr. Robert J. Giroux as Chairman of the St. Michael's Graduate School Division and Summer Session Program became official.

Currently, the Graduate School is being conducted on a part time basis with about 50 students but it is expected to be operating full time within two years. At that point the Education Department will adopt a five year program that will graduate Masters of Educational Guidance.

Speaking on possible changes to be instituted in the Graduate School, Dr. Giroux said that; "Our plans are very much allied with what Dr. James B. Conant has said in his new book The Education of the American Teacher."

The book, published recently, is a critical indictment of the educational background of American teachers. In it, Dr. Conant, a former president of Harvard University, recommends that prospective teachers be given a wider training in the liberal arts.

The SMC Graduate School and Summer Program were founded and headed by the late Dr. Jeremiah Durick in 1939. At present there are approximately

Dr. Giroux received additional graduate training at the University of Long Island, Notre Dame and here, receiving both his B.A. and M.A. degrees in Education from St. Michael's. He earned his Ph. D. at the University of Ottawa.

He lives in Burlington, is married, and has four children. Dr. Giroux has taught in public schools here and in Connecticut and New York.

Marriage Course Offered

Part of the spiritual program at St. Michael's this year will be a 10-lecture course dealing with 15 topics covering every aspect of marriage.

The course is primarily for Seniors. If, however, the maximum enrollment of 50 members is not met from this group, the course will be opened to other students who plan to marry within the next 18 months, according to Fr. Nelson B. Ziter, Director of Spiritual affairs.

Lecturers for the series will include Dr. Thabault of Burlington, Dr. Murphy, Dr. Giroux, Mr. Case, Fr. Sheehey and a panel of women who will present marriage from a woman's psychological viewpoint.

The course is connected with the Catholic Center in Ottawa and is offered throughout the nation, in Canada and in some areas abroad. At St. Michael's, the course will be given every Monday night at 7:00 and 8:30, starting Oct. 7.

The cost to the student for the course is $8.00. Anyone interested in this special course should contact Fr. Ziter before Oct. 1.

THE DEAN YOU SAVE MAY BE YOUR OWN

Colleges are complicated and bewildering places, filled with complicated and bewildering people. Today let us examine one of the most complicated and bewildering—yet fetching and lovable—of all campus figures. I refer, of course, to the dean of students.

Policeman and confessor, shepherd and seer, warden and oracle, proconsul and pal—the dean of students is all of these. How, then, can we understand him? Well sir, perhaps the best way is to take an average day in the life of an average dean. Here, for example, is what happened last Thursday to Dean Killjoy N. Damper of the Duluth College of Belles Lettres and Pemmican.

At 6 a.m. he woke, dressed, lit a Marlboro, and went up on the roof of his house to remove the statue of the Founder which had been placed there during the night by high-spirited undergraduates.

Dean, Policeman, Confessor, Shepherd, Seer...etc.

At 7 a.m. he lit a Marlboro and walked briskly to the campus. (The Dean had not been driving his car since it had been placed on the roof of the girls dormitory by high-spirited undergraduates.)

At 7:45 a.m. he arrived on campus, lit a Marlboro and climbed the bell tower to remove his secretary who had been placed there during the night by high-spirited undergraduates.

At 8 a.m. he reached his office, lit a Marlboro, and met with E. Pluribus Ewbank, editor of the student newspaper. Young Ewbank had been writing a series of editorials urging the United States to annex Canada. When the editorials had evoked no response, he had taken matters into his own hands. Accompanied by his society editor and two proofreaders, he had gone over the border and conquered Manitoba. With great patience and several Marlboro Cigarettes, the Dean persuaded young Ewbank to give Manitoba back. Young Ewbank, however, insisted on keeping Winnipeg.

At 9 a.m. the Dean lit a Marlboro and met with Robert Penn Sigafoos, president of the local Sigma Chi chapter, who came to report that the Deke house had been put on top of the Sigma Chi house during the night by high-spirited undergraduates.

At 10 a.m. the Dean lit a Marlboro and went to umpire an intramural softball game on the roof of the law school where the campus baseball diamond had been placed during the night by high-spirited undergraduates.

At 12 noon the Dean had a luncheon meeting with the prexy, the bursar, and the registrar, at the bottom of the campus swimming pool where the faculty dining room had been placed during the night by high-spirited undergraduates. Marlboros were passed after luncheon, but not lighted, owing to dampness.

At 2 p.m., back in his office, the Dean lit a Marlboro and received the Canadian Minister of War who said unless young Ewbank gave back Winnipeg, the Canadian army would march against the U.S. immediately. Young Ewbank was summoned and agreed to give back Winnipeg if he could have Moose Jaw. The Canadian Minister of War at first refused, but finally consented after young Ewbank placed him on the roof of the metallurgy building.

At 3 p.m. the Dean lit a Marlboro and met with a delegation from the student council who came to present him with a set of matched luggage in honor of his fifty years' service as dean of students. The Dean promptly packed the luggage with all his clothing and fled to Utica, New York, where he is now in the aluminum siding game.

Goon Platoon Marches Again

This overloaded "jeep" was part of the traditional 'Goon Platoon' military review Tuesday. Bob Curley in the svelte shorts and Will Turgeon, in foreground, appear to be the least incognito of the unit. (Duganphoto)

By RONALD A. SUDOL
Staff Reporter

There was something in the air on Tuesday afternoon that rendered a strangely unaloof atmosphere to the first "leadership lab" of the year. It wasn't the Arnold Air either; it was the traditional "Goon Platoon".

By our reckoning there were four vehicles, manned by a motley regiment of Juniors still smarting from last year's experience as Basic Corps Cadets, in addition to a two wheel device operated by John W. Donoghue.

The parade formed in Miketown which began to resemble the Kashmir Pass as many cadets gathered in the roadway. Everyone just waited patiently for the official United Nations observers to arrive.

Meanwhile the deputy sheriff came by to find out if the platoon's parade permit was in order. He left before he could accomplish this when a small grenade exploded at his feet.

The cadets were finally spirited away by the peremptory remarks of their peers, only half of whom appeared to be in uniform. The Goon Platoon then got under way singing its spirited anthem "R.O.T.C.; it sounds like . . . to, to me . . ." and so on.

As they rounded the corner they heard the celebrated battle cry of Cadet Group Commanders - "Guh-roooop" - which was the signal for the Goon Platoon to approach the wing staff in what could only be called an unmilitary manner. They went there to try to find out just what the wing directive was so that they could proceed with it. Instead they received a trophy for what Cadet Colonel John E. Reilly described as a very good Goon Platoon indeed.

Overcome with gratitude, the Platoon returned one slightly shaken-up junior officer to the corps with the explanation that the hapless young leader had been "borrowed".

COMMITTEE APPOINTMENTS

The Forum got down to business when Mr. Smith read the list of committee appointments for the coming year. Some of the committees were singled out for special mention.

One of the most important committees, the Student Welfare Committee, will be headed by John Reilly and will be composed of Paul Simmons and Bill Jack. The two members will also serve on the Faculty Student Advisory Committee. This year's Lecture Series will be handled by Ron Lysik and Joseph Guilfoyle.

Smith said that the Club Status Committee, with Bill Batewell as chairman, will call for more strict observance of regulations. To be given a rejuvenation this year will be the Student Union Committee. Headed by Kevin St. John, this group will strive for greater use of the facilities of Alliot Hall. Career Night, Under Bill Murphy and Joe L'Herault, will be tried again this year, with hopes for more success.

The only new committee for the coming year is the Additional Student Jobs Committee. Chairman Batewell reported that the committee is already at work investigating this field for the student body.

Two motions were passed under new business during the meeting. The first, introduced by Henry Amoroso, asked permission for the Sophomore class to hold a dance on October 26. Next, Tom McHale moved that the Forum sponsor a Student Directory.

Finally Kevin St. John moved that the Crown and Sword Society be allowed to sponsor a Pep-Rally on November 23, but the motion was tabled because of conflicts.

Juniors Vault To First Place In Football, Boast Undefeated Record

By M. WICK BURNS
Co-Sports Editor

Interclass football is once again off to a roaring start and the opening games have proved to be hard fought and exciting. Each class, of course, is anxious to win the Interclass Trophy, which is awarded to the one with the most points at the end of the year. The class that wins the football competition would be off to a good start.

The Seniors, Class of '64, have walked off with the football honors for the last two years, but they face stiff competition this year, especially from the Class of '65. The Sophomores are hoping that they will prove more effective than they did last year. The Class of 1967, although new to the idea and to each other are hoping at least to give a good account of themselves.

The intense rivalry between the Juniors and Seniors was evident from the opening of play today as the Class of '65 won a deserved victory 19-13.

At first it appeared that the Seniors might be able to send the offense home early as they struck for two quick touchdowns. Quarterback Mickey Moughan hit Rog Anton for one, and after a Bill Carroll interception, found Stan Buczak in the end zone for another. Both points after touchdown were missed.

Both teams knocked on the door several more times in the first half but each were stopped by key interceptions. Bucky Egan and Bill Carroll for the Seniors and John Hartigan for the Juniors were standouts in that department. Finally, late in the first half, Junior quarterback John Beasley found the range when he hit Frank McKevitt for six points. The score stood 13-6 at the half.

It was the Junior show from that point on. McKevitt scored again with one of his patented catches of a Beasley pass, and then Beasley hit Joe Kliminski to put them ahead to stay.

Throughout the game the Seniors suffered from costly mistakes. Two touchdowns that were called back cost them the ball game. Their sponge-like pass defense and poor passing also hurt. The loss of Emil Milesci, the corner linebacker, due to a severe shoulder injury, for the rest of the contests was and will be one that is sure to affect them. Quarterback Beasley and "Hands" McKevitt did a fine job for the Juniors as well as the noticebly smaller line which raised havoc with their more formidable opponents.

Friday, it was entirely the story of the Seniors as they trounced the weak and disorganized Sophomores. The score was 38-0.

Mickey Moughan regained his form and riddled the Soph secondary, hiting Dick Moyen twice, Stan Buczak, Rog Anton, and Ed Goutas once each for touchdowns.

Two of the extra points were good on Moughan Aerials to Buczak and Frank Papp. About the only good thing observed about the Sophomore squad was the play of Fred Severni on the offensive and defensive line. The Senior secondary looked like a different outfit than Thursday as did the more aggressive defensive forward wall.

Monday the spirited Class of 1967 made an auspicious debut on the Hilltop sports scene by posting a 12-6 upset victory over the Sophomores.

The first half was a sloppy, scoreless affair. However in the opening minutes of the second half, Coach Jack Dorsey's beany boys struck for two quick touchdowns. First quarterback Juall connected with a 45 yd. aerial bomb to halfback Stryhaus to score. Two plays later, defensive end Torpe Delehanty picked off an errant Soph aerial and raced 20 yards unmolested for the second Frosh score.

It wasn't until late in the fourth quarter that the sputtering Sophomore offense jelled. Quarterback Flynn hit end Curtiss on a sensational play that went 60 yards to paydirt. Again a penalty nullified the conversion attempt. The score stood 12-6 as time ran out.

The Juniors and the Frosh met today for the first time Wednesday and the Class of '63 was victorious by the score of 18-0.

The Juniors scored two rather unusual touchdowns. Quarterback John Beasley ran 40 yards first, and 60 yards the second time. Realizing he was up against probably the best pass defense in the league, he elected to go on the ground and it paid off. Their third and last TD came on a Trangehese (who?) to McKevit pass. The point after was good.

THE EDITORS SPEAK ...

By BOB BUTLER and MIKE BURNS
Co-Sports Editors

As hard as it is to believe that the summer has come and gone, the Fall of '63 is upon us and with it the prospect of many exciting events to take place here on the Hilltop.

* * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * *

To help those who can't enjoy these events first hand and perhaps also to stir up a little controversy along the way, The MICHAELMAN this year is equipped with not one, but two, sports editors, Mike Burns and Bob Butler, whose pleasure it will be to provide the students of SMC with sports coverage which they hope will at least approximate the excitement and flavor of the events they represent.

* * * * * *

This will be done with the editors alternating at the sports helm, Bob resting the week that Mike is hard at work and vice versa.

With two such minds meshing their gears, it is hoped by both editors that the end result will be a sports section which will live up to the following specific objectives:

* * * * * *

1. The writing will always be informal but objective, never lapsing into the cheerleading type of sports coverage which all too often mars many campus newspapers. Writeups will be submitted without regard to any person's year in school.
2. There will be an earnest attempt to give complete coverage to those events which have an immediate effect on SMC life. Sports development on the national and international level will be treated secondarily - when "lean" sports weeks on campus make room for them.
3. When at all possible, coverage will be done in a first hand manner. Except when class schedules and game locations conflict in such a way to prevent this, each story will be written by a person who was actually present at the event. Like jury members who are in deliberation, staff reporters are hereby forbidden whatsoever to read the Burlington Free Press or any other outside source until their articles have been submitted to the Editors!!!

* * * * * *

Just like any other set of ideals, these of course will not be completely actuated, and at times not as fully as they might be. The sincere effort to live up to them, however, will always be there. Realizing this, the editors welcome constructive criticism of both the oral and written variety in the hope that ultimately The MICHAELMAN sports page will be one which the entire school can well be proud of.

* * * * * *

With these points in mind and with no further ado, the editors wish luck in the coming seasons to coaches Jacobs, Markey, Citarella, Paul and all the men who play under them. The way it looks from here, ill fortune will be the only factor to detract from what has all the prospects of being a memorable sports year for all.

A word to the wise: The adult behavior suggested in the new Student Guide applies at sports events.

Soccer Squad In Debut Tomorrow Against Profs; Prospects Good

By MIKE MARTIN

Autumn has arrived and so has the soccer season. It is interesting to note that this sport has captured the enthusiasm of the students to the point where home soccer games now seem to be attended as well as home baseball games.

The reason for the popularity of this fast moving game on the Hilltop can be attributed to the fact that it is our only fall sport on the intercollegiate level. But that by no means is the only reason - our soccer team is exciting and quick and they are coached by the colorful Dr. Armando Citarella.

To say that we had a successful season last year would be somewhat of an understatement. For the simple reason that the Knights defeated a fine Middlebury squad loaded with All-Americans, the season would have to be termed successful.

It would appear that more success is in store for the Purple Booters of '63. Under the fine tutelage of Dr. Armando Citarella, the experienced lettermen and the eager Sophomores apparently have jelled into a lightning quick unit.

In the nets for the third consecutive year will be Rich "Pop" Endrelunas. Time and again this lithe athelete from Hartford, Conn., repulsed the opposition despite heavy onslaughts during last year's rugged schedule.

When the Knights take the field today against Plattsburg the planning of several years should start to reap dividends. If experience will provide the difference, then two-year varsity veterans such as Tobin, Logan, Anton, Cambo, Tamayo, Jaremczuk, Donald, and company should lead the Purple through a very rewarding campaign.

New on the Hilltop this year will be a Frosh soccer team. Assistant basketball coach and veteran varsity baseball mentor, Ed Markey, will handle the club.

Golfers Prep For ECAC

By JIM SWEET

This fall, while most of the attention of Michaelmen is focused on the gridiron, nine golfers will be vieing to represent SMC in the ECAC tournaments during the month of October.

54 HOLE TEST

Coach George "Doc" Jacobs has introduced a 54 hole qualifying test. The top four qualifiers will represent the school in the New England tournament. Thirty-six of the holes were played at the Burlington Country Club this week. The remaining 18 were taken from the scores against Dartmouth at Hanover this Friday.

The New England regional tournament will be played at the Misquamicut Golf Course, Watch Hill, R.I., October 5. Two weeks later, October 19, the New England qualifiers will travel to the Bethpage Country Club at Farmingdale, L.I. for the ECAC.

St. Michael's has had a competitor in the Eastern tournament for the last two years. Two years ago Walt Sharis qualified and last year Don Bank made the trip.

OUTLOOK BRIGHT

Looking at this year's team there is the potential for a truly fine year. Last year's club was undefeated in match play, and was also the state intercollegiate champion. This represents great progress considering that St. Mike's won its first match in the history of the school only two years ago. We have lost one player from last year while four or five Sophomores have advanced to varsity eligibility giving the group its greatest depth ever.

The returning veterans are headed by Bank, the number one man last year and a consistently fine player. Other seniors returning are "Little Zings" Colangelo, the longest hitter on the team, and Ernie Church, last year's Vermont Collegiate Medalist.

Returning Juniors Mike Tranghese, the dedicated one, and Jack Harvey, who did such a fine job after being promoted from the taxi squad, also lends considerable strength. The excellent ability of sophomores Bill Walsh, Kevin Gokey, Denis Quinn, Bill Williamson, and Pete Duffy will assure a veritable dogfight for the top four positions.

SHARIS RETURNING

Next spring the club should be even better with the return of Walt Sharis and Marty King. Sharis has returned to school after a year's absence and will sit out the fall season. King, a regular from last season, is not playing this fall because of a heavy schedule.

It should be an exciting season and the team is out to win.
